I want to make a website specifically about a list of anime series and movies. You can add your own list of watched anime and a more addition like giving a rating to a show and comments if it's possible.

Site Map:

We started with the home page where you can see a list of anime shows and series. You can either login or not to view the home page. But in order to add your own list of anime series or movies, you have to login. If you don't have an account yet, you can register it on the register account page. And finally on the personal page, you can see your added list of anime series or movies there and you can go back and forth from home page to your personal page.

Wireframe:

The wireframe for the HOME page features a dark gray header with the word "HOME" in white. Below the header, the text "All Anime" is centered, and a "Login" button is positioned in the top right corner. The main content area displays a list of three anime items. Each item consists of a gray square placeholder for an image, a rectangular box labeled "INFO" for details, and an "Add" button to the right.

The home page of this website shows us all available anime based on our database. On the top right there is a login button. The list shows us a picture of the anime shows or movies and information beside them like what kind of anime it is and possibly the overall rating. Beside the info text, there's an add button for you to click to add into your personal list of anime. If you're already logged in, the login button will change so that you can go to your personal page.

If you click on the login button, this page will be shown. You can insert your own username and password. If you don't have one, you can press the register button. If you press the back button, the website will show you the home page again

In the personal page you can see your list of anime that you have added. It's the same format as the home page with the exception of the add button. The back button will bring you back to the home page.
